10% DISCOU  Yes, please send Roskies's A Bridge of $15.25—a 10% discour My payment or credit enclosed. I understand completely satisfied, I book(s) within 30 days full refund.  (Offer good through Jan	ne David G.  onging for off the list price. ard information is that if I am not	Check enclosed payable to Harvard University Prescard number, expiration date, and signat Acct. no.  Signature Phone		rge orders.
		(ROSBRX) A BRII	5% sales tax	$15.25
	DEPT LANGUAGE & LITERATURE JEWISH THEOL SEM AMERICA 3080 BROADWAY NEW YORK NY 10027-4650		FREE Postage
· , 1			Total Due

Harvard University Press, 79 Garden Street, Cambridge, MA 02138

HARVARD UNIVERSITY PRESS

79 GARDEN STREET • CAMBRIDGE • MASSACHUSETTS 02138

SAVE 10%

If you teach courses in Jewish literature, culture, or history, or Russian literature, or myth and folklore, you are invited to send in the above coupon and receive 10% OFF the new paperback edition of A Bridge of Longing, by David G. Roskies.

Dear Professor,

Here is your chance to consider this outstanding book for course use. A Bridge of Longing: The Lost Art of Yiddish Storytelling, by David G. Roskies, is now available in paperback, and is 10% OFF when you mail in the above order coupon.

A Bridge of Longing is a compelling history of how Yiddish storytelling became the politics of rescue for successive generations of displaced Jewish artists, embodying their fervent hopes and greatest fears in the languages of tradition. Its protagonists are modern writers who returned to storytelling in the hope of harnessing the folk tradition, and who created copies that are better than the original.

Praise for A Bridge of Longing:

"An ambitious, learned...study of two centuries of Yiddish literature ...Roskies has produced an often brilliant scholarly volume that will help rescue the 'lost art of Yiddish storytelling' by explaining what it really was." —Richard Bernstein, New York Times

"This is a good book...I read [it] with admiration and pleasure...[Roskies's] analysis of Sholem Aleichem, Peretz, and Manger is masterly, his study of Singer, inspired. His book is about the most stimulating guide to the Yiddish classics available in the English language."

—Chaim Bermant, Jewish Chronicle

"Fascinating and persuasive...In this insightful and erudite study [Roskies shows that] Yiddish writers...were literary craftsmen who rediscovered and then refashioned traditional stories and did it so successfully that today their re-creations seem like original folk tales...He makes a strong case."

—Kenneth Turan, Los Angeles Times Book Review

Contents

The People of the Lost Book
The Master of Prayer: Nahman of Bratslav
The Master of Lore: Isaac Meir Dik
The Conjuror: I.L. Peretz
Mythologist of the Mundane: Sholem Aleichem
The Storyteller as High Priest: Der Nister
The Last of the Purim Players: Itzik Manger
The Demon as Storyteller: Isaac Bashevis Singer
Estates of Memory: After the Holocaust

A Bridge of Longing is a valuable resource—and your students are certain to find the paperback price a reasonable classroom investment. Use this order form and the enclosed postage-paid envelope to order your copies now . . . and receive a 10% PROFESSIONAL DISCOUNT.

Sincerely,

Sabine Kowal Promotions

Salins Kanel

David G. Roskies is Professor of Jewish Literature at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. He is the author of Against the Apocalypse.

A Bridge of Longing 5 halftones, 33 line illus. 432 pp.

For your convenience, we offer you the option of ordering via our toll-free FAX number: 1-800-962-4983