

San Francisco State University
1600 Holloway Avenue
San Francisco, California 94132

Department of History
415/338-1604

April 2, 1992

Dear David Roskies:

It was good to read your fine synoptic piece in THE SCHOCKEN GUIDE. but should it go into another version or a second edition, please note that Hutchins Hapgood was neither a Boston Brahmin nor a muckrafer (269) but an exiled Yankee of mixed origins. His brother, Norman, was the muckraker. Also please note that the provenance of "Eyli Eyli" is given in THE PROMISED CITY (1962), though I certainly do not want to take any credit away from the Mloteks, who have been doing wonderful things.

Lastly, your wonderful recreation of your Hebrew-Yiddish education in Montreal is a gem and we very much look forward to its wide dissemination with the forthcoming publication of Alan Mintz's HEBREW IN AMERICA.

With best wishes for a happy pesach season,

Yours sincerely,

Moses Rischin

Professor David Roskies
The Jewish Theological Seminary
of America