Dear David Rookies:

Thank you for remembering to place our names on your mailing list for the announcement of your book. We ordered it immediately. We wish you both luck with it.

Although we have still to meet, our mutual worlds are close ones. I have been, for this past year, working for the Media Project of the Institute for Jewish Life. Our mutuality is in the form of Michael Swirsky. In fact he promised to alert me concerning the book but you beat him to it.

I am hoping to receive our copy next week so that we may read it while away from Boston during the month of August.

Once again, good luck.

Sincerely
Miriam Krant
