Dear Professor Roskies:

I am pleased to inform you that your appointment as Assistant Professor of Jewish Literature will be extended for an additional three years beginning September 1, 1978. In accordance with the rules of governance, this is the maximum appointment that you may have on the level of assistant professor. I trust that in the coming three years you will qualify for a promotion.

It is expected that your duties during the next three years will be similar to the ones you have carried in the past three years. The salary arrangements will be made each spring for the following year in accordance with Seminary custom.

I trust that the relationship between you and the Seminary will continue to be mutually rewarding.

Sincerely,

Gerson D. Cohen
