

Top: The needs of all students are met in a reading class, as the teacher recognizes the unique requirements of each individual.

Center: Modern science laboratory and equipment aid in biology experiment as part of the expanded science program at HANC.

Bottom: Values, ideology and tradition come alive as students engage in the traditional rituals of their faith.

for your information...

from Hebrew Academy of Nassau County

MOSES HORNSTEIN JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL • BROOKDALE HIGH SCHOOL
215 Oak Street, Mitchel Field, New York / 538-8161

WEST HEMPSTEAD SCHOOL / 609 Hempstead Avenue, West Hempstead, New York / 485-7786

MID-ISLAND SCHOOL / 42 Locust Avenue, Bethpage, New York / 681-5922

42 Locust Ave.
Bethpage N.Y.
July 14, 1975

Dear Mr. Scharfstein: Thank you ever so much for the Shkell Book which I read with great interest. As a matter of fact I had a teen-ager read it and asked for his reaction. The young man not only read it himself, but passed it on to his parents.

The book is extremely well written and offers the American-born student a comprehensive picture of European Jewish life, which is no longer, and holds your attention till the last page.

Thank you again,
Rabbi David Chame