MUDORN TIDDISIT

1st person narrative by [Yosef Sofer] who now lives in Tsfat

The earthquake in Tsfat in 1762 and how God rescued him from it. The ship left Istanbul for Israel only once a year, but he met a wealthy Jew from Brod who hired him to fix the community Torah scroll. Because of the delay, he had to wait a year while the gvir from Brod died in the earthquake and his wife died of the plague in Akko. A survivor tells Reb Yosef of the dreams he had, thanks to which he was rescued.

Saved from the terrible plague

Graves that he visited.
