Dear David,

I just got my copy of A Bridge of Longing in the mail yesterday. I'm about to go on vacation, but I did read the chapter on Der Nisternight away.

The chapter is wonderful! So was the earlier version you let me read in draft, but the final version has even more of your insightful interpretations. I must also confess to feeling very flattered that you took some of my views into account in the final version.

I am impatient to read the rest of the book.

TD 76" and best wishes,

Michael Stern
