Dear David,

Thanks for sending me the copy of your proofs. I am immensely impressed with your book; it's a real tour de force...and written so beautifully. I can't remember reading such an eloquent academic book in a long time. It's a superb accomplishment. Congratulations.

I had told you that I would have the revision of my piece for Prooftexts by July 1st. I'm writing just to tell you that it will be another few weeks. I finished the semester on May 25th and had to start teaching summer school on May 28th. I'll finally finish with that this Friday! In the meantime, my brain decided it wanted a break and turned off in June. I had a very hard semester and think I needed a break. However, I finally was able to get back to the piece last week, and am doing some of the reading I had wanted to. I intend to have the piece finished by mid-July. So I'll send it to you then.

Have a good summer.

Best,

Susan Handelman
